

Women's Social Movements in Contemporary Latin America: Common Trends, Intersecting Identities, Diverse Realities

27 January 2017

Latin American Centre, St. Antony's College, Oxford

9:00	Welcome and Opening Remarks Julia Zulver, University of Oxford
9:15-10:45	Panel 1: Democratic and Rights Based Mobilisation • Dr Marcela Ríos Tobar, UNDP-Chile • Dr Malu Gatto, University of Zürich • Dr Victoria Sanford, Lehman College, CUNY Moderator: Dr Gabriel Pereira
10:45-11:00	Coffee Break
11:00-12:30	Panel 2: Mobilisation for Rights to the Body • Ms Kiran Stallone, University of Oxford • Ms Mónica Arango Olaya, Deputy Justice of the Constitutional Court (Colombia) • Ms My Rafstedt, University of Oxford Moderator: Dr Gabriela Álvarez
12:45-13:45	Lunch St. Antony's College
13:45-14:45	Screening of Documentary: Quipu Project Introduction and Q&A with Dr Karen Tucker
14:45-16:00	Panel 3: Mobilisation for Social, Cultural, and Economic Rights • Ms Julia Zulver, University of Oxford • Ms Nancy Tapias Torrado, University of Oxford

	• Ms Kyra Grieco, Sciences-Po Paris Moderator: Prof Leigh Payne
16.00-16.45	Keynote Speech: The regional #NiUnaMenos movement and what this means in terms of gender justice. Dr Kimberly Theidon, The Fletcher School, Tufts University
16:45-17:00	Break and time to interact with Quipu Project
17:00-19.00	Latin American Centre Seminar: Dr Marcela Ríos Tobar, UNDP-Chile
	Dinner for Presenters St. Antony's High Table